

JUSTICE IS AFTER ENEMIES IN IOWA

President of Central Association Announces He Will Oust Burtner From Waterloo, if Possible.

SAYS REMARKS ARE SLANDEROUS

Aftermath of Territorial Controversy Comes in Assertions That Libel Suits Are to Be Started.

(By Associated Press.)

Keokuk, Ia., Feb. 25.—New developments in the controversy arising over the question as to whether Rock Island is Central association or Three-Eye league territory, and an aftermath to the annual Central association meeting in Burlington last January, came today when M. E. Justice, president of the Central association, made the announcement that certain newspapers in the circuit had gone too far in their attacks upon him, and that he would, if possible, oust T. A. Burtner, president of the Waterloo club, from office.

An article appearing in several papers, describing a long distance telephone conversation with Mr. Burtner in which he is alleged to have made the statement that "this man Justice is a crook" is responsible for Mr. Justice declaring that the Waterloo man went too far and would suffer for it.

President Justice also intimated today that libel suits against several newspapers would be forthcoming as a result of their publishing the article in question.

"Personal matters have been taken into this fight and my reputation has been assailed," Mr. Justice said today. "I have kept my peace despite the fact many articles have appeared which bitterly attacked me, but Burtner's statement is too much. I won't stand for it," he continued.

Asks Backing.

President Justice has mailed letters to the officials of six clubs in the circuit calling their attention to Burtner's statement and asking that the league president be backed up in his efforts to oust the Waterloo man from office.

MUSICAL AT OUTING CLUB.

One of the most elaborate and beautiful parties ever given in Davenport was the musicale at the Davenport Outing club yesterday afternoon when Mesdames Alfred Bendixen, Albert Dow, G. F. Harkness, Louis LeClaire and B. J. McCarthy were hostesses.

Tri-city people to the number of 375 were guests to enjoy the program given by Miss Elizabeth Nott, soprano, and Robert MacDonald, pianist. The club house was profusely decorated with every kind of spring flower, with calla and Easter lilies and flowers in yellow hues predominating. The ladies received in the wicker room. Mrs. Bendixen was in white satin with an overdress of black net and chintilly lace; Mrs. Dow was in white silk with an overdress of pink net and chiffon; Mrs. LeClaire was in white satin with an overdress of white lace and net; Mrs. Harkness wore black velvet and net, and Mrs. McCarthy was in old gold and lace. Each of the hostesses wore a corsage bouquet of violets. The four little daughters of the hostesses, Margaret LeClaire, Dorothy Dow, Mary Harkness and Jane Bendixen, under the direction of Mrs. James Reed Lane, distributed the programs and acted as pages. Miss Nott was in beautiful voice and Mr. MacDonald was an excellent accompanist and delighted with solo numbers. The program contained a number of new things and old favorites. Tables where lunch was served were set in the library, square and east dining rooms, all the tables being beautifully trimmed. In the library the centerpiece was a wonderful arrangement of fruit on a large tray, from the center of which rose a tall vase filled with Aaron ward roses. Trays of many varieties of sandwiches tied with yellow ribbons were placed about the board and yellow and white predominated in the table appointments. Pouring and assisting in serving were Mesdames E. A. Shaw, J. F. Dow, Charles Shuler, Charles Rendleman, T. J. Mahaffey of Marion, Ind., and Miss Helen Gansolus of Iowa City. While the guests were being served an orchestra played and the affair was delightfully informal and homelike.
